Welcome

Homestead Magazine is pleased to be hosting the seventh annual "Jackson Hole Showcase of Homes" during this year's Fall Arts Festival. We aim to bring you a sampling of the newest in architectural and design innovation. Some of our valley's premier artisans in the fields of architecture, building, and interior design will be on hand to detail their efforts in defining what it means to live in the Intermountain West.

We at Homestead invite you to explore and enjoy learning the ins and outs of the design process. May the masterpieces you see firsthand inspire you to look at your own spaces and explore possibilities you might never have considered. We encourage you to be a part of this new Western evolution.

Sincerely,
The Homestead Magazine Team

- ▶▶ 3 story double bunk bed wall
- ▶▶ Drinking library with 6 custom temperature controlled wine coolers that house over 200 bottles of wine

Carefully nestled inside a bend on Fish Creek, this sophisticated transitional home was curated by Berlin Architects and Jacque Jenkins-Stireman Design with the utmost craftsmanship and detail to create a space unlike any in Jackson Hole. Organic architectural finishes are a nod to the natural landscape while clean lines and contemporary furnishings are implemented for a refined rendition of the mountain home. Flanked with 18-ft. high Italian steel windows, the living space elevates the concept of indoor/outdoor living with complete transparency from the natural wetlands in the East to the expanding views of Jackson Hole Resort in the West. Private sleeping wings mirror the communal spaces with ascending staircases that seem to hover between the first and second levels. The drinking library is a luxurious space to reflect and enjoy a glass of wine with custom velvet armchairs and tarnished steel cocktail tables. Tranquility can be found around every corner of this detailed home from the cozy bunk room to the stone soaking tub in the master suite.

Grand Teton National Park Foundation

Overview

- » 4,877 sq. ft. of living space
- » Flagstone deck with hot tub
- » 5 bedrooms, 5 baths
- » Close proximity to Teton Village

This stately residence sits nestled near a stand of pine trees, within sight of the local definition of its name: the treed terrain of Four Pines just outside the Jackson Hole Mountain Resort boundary. Set within Shooting Star, the five-bedroom home boasts barn wood doors flanking the window above the front portico. The panorama takes center stage in the great room, an open-concept living and dining space encircled in picture windows. The adjoining dining area centers around a farmhouse table surrounded by woven chairs. Overlooking the living expanse, the gourmet kitchen offers granite countertops, a Wolf stove and clapboard cabinetry. Outside, a flagstone deck beckons with its oversized hot tub. Even though the plethora of domestic diversions could keep guests busy, a Four Pines stay would be incomplete without venturing outside. This Shooting Star retreat allows you to choose your own adventure—of course with the help of TCCG's world class concierge team.

Overview

- » 1,620 sq. ft. home
- » 355 sq. ft. garage
- » 385 sq. ft. screened in porch
- » Overlooks National Elk Refuge

This recently completed home, directly across from the National Elk Refuge, is a statement in elegant simplicity, rendered in the style of Mid-century Modernism. The home's modest scale and thoughtful architectural details afford a subtle gateway to its East Jackson neighborhood. The lines between interior and exterior volumes are blurred by the use of identical materials inside and out. The absence of interior dividing walls and the large screened porch—complete with a sunken spa and fire-pit—lend spaciousness to the home's constrained footprint. The intentionally unmanicured landscaping ties the property seamlessly into the Elk Refuge. The location offers long views across the Jackson Hole valley. The home site and the home's architecture are beautifully complemented by the interior design and exquisite furnishings from the owner's extensive mid-century art work and furniture collection.

Modern Masterpiece

SELECTED NON-PROFIT
One22

Overview

- » 4,200 sq. ft.
- » 672 sq. ft. guest house
- » 4-bedroom, 4.5 bath contemporary design with a 1 bedroom, 1 bath guest house
- » Custom furniture and commissioned artwork

The mountains are the majesty in this newly-built contemporary home on the edge of Grand Teton National Park. Their jagged peaks invite the imagination to fly outside the enormous glass lift-and-slide doors. Inside, ambient lighting and textured surfaces balance the sharp architectural lines and soften the vibe with finely detailed finishes. Enter into a cocoon of white oak floors with an ebony finish and hemlock ceilings. A custom concrete fireplace separates the living and dining areas and complements locally made and internationally sourced art and furniture. Built by a dream team of talent, this house is a true homage to the Teton range.
